Spring Has Sprung: Easter Will Come

What a winter we have had. Lots of snow and ice. No wonder a movie like FROZEN has made such a splash!

As a church we have been challenged by winter blues: a wall seeping water once more into our undercroft offices, plumbing issues, snow removal, the running of electrical and HDMI outlets, the hang-up around getting our new monitors in, and a host of little issues.

But the good news is spring is here, and the temperature is rising, and plants are blooming, and the celebration of the resurrection is just around the corner.

I want to thank you for your patience as we have started using the monitors. We have a new Geek Squad of teens who will be working with David Stoddard from the vestry and me: Peter Bwewusa, Caleb Boyd, Andrew Kasule, Emily Kasule, La'Shae' Peryman, and Saba Tesfaye.

Elton will be away the first three weeks after Easter. I plan to use his absence as an opportunity to live into the parish's request to have a more diverse music. I am going to attempt to embed the music into the power point (pray for me) and then we will learn it by hearing and singing the refrains while others sing the verses. This could be a challenge, but it could also be a gift. I'm praying it will be the latter. Anyway, we have three weeks to experiment.

Have a great EASTER. Life is so very sweet.

Blessings,
Mother Meg

Congratulations to Karen Facen

Karen Facen is our Senior Celebrations Honoree nominee this year. The Senior Celebration which honors the contributions of older adults to the parish, the Diocese and community is hosted by the Diocese of Washington and Seabury Resources for the Aging. This year's Senior Celebration which, at which Karen's life and ministry will be celebrated will be at the National Cathedral on May 15. All are welcome to attend.

Karen is more than our Christmas elf who makes sure we all know that toys are needed for the C4 Toy Closet or the one that makes sure we are aware of school needs of children in our community. Karen is our Altar Guild director whose ministry is the oversight of all that happens to make our altar and sanctuary a holy place. It is a lot of work. She has designed a altar guild manual with text and pictures to help the altar guild members know how to do their jobs. She orders all the materials we use. She makes sure that everything is in order and working and all of us who serve at the altar can do the jobs God has call us to do.

Karen is also a faithful member of the 11th Hour Wednesday Bible class. We thank God for her and her ministry.
