Who needs a sidekick or a team when you can do everything yourself, and do it just the way it should be? Captain Everything loves saving the day and doesn't need anyone's help to do it. Sure, she has an Amazing Alliance of Superheroes, but no one minds if she just handles everything herself. Or do they? What happens when everyone else gets tired of being left out of everything and quits? And what happens when Captain Everything faces something she can't do? Can she face her fears and cooperate with her team to save Citytown City? Or will it be too late? This action-packed interactive play for kids and families is performed by three actors on stage and a whole team of superheroes in the audience...including YOU! Best for ages 5 & up.
